ABSTRACT

This is a partially annotated bibliography of books, journal articles, and other materials on refugees and refugee issues from an international perspective and from the perspective of several countries around the world. The materials cover a range of topics including general theories on refugees; the refugee experience before 1960 and the situation after 1960; law and policy on refugees and refugee asylum; accounts of refugee flight and persecution; refugee agencies; and issues of resettlement, cultural adjustment, refugee children, refugee behavior and mental health, and cultural background. The materials are classified according to those that have a general or international scope, those that have specific reference to the United States, and those that refer to other countries. (MJL)
